ROOSEVELT'S NEW NATIONAL ANTHEM.

My country, 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of mostly—Me,
Of Me I sing.
All rule belongs to Me,
Perkies, Bill Plinn and Mo,
For President, take Me,
Or go to—

I am the Chief Bull Moose,
Bulwark of liberty,
Of Me I sing.
Lan't where my fathers died,
I am thy joy and pride,
From every mountain side
Let my name ring.

Let music swell the breeze
And sing my policies
From our to you.
I love thy "rocks" and "rills"
That will supply my bills;
I love that job of bill's
In Washington.

Instead of Bill, take Me
As boss of liberty;
Me, Me, I yell!
Then will our land be bright
With My progressive light,
Protected by my might
And safe from—

In the Market For a WHEAT DRILL

Then Our "New Peoria" Is What You Want

It has perfect working discs, fitted with dust proof chilled bearings, single draw bars that will not gather trash, staggered spoke wheels with 7-inch hub and 3-inch tires, continuous rear bar with truss rod to support seat and keep drill from sagging, direct pressure in rear of disc; a feature we claim will make this drill work perfectly in any land suitable for sowing grain and where other drills cannot be operated. A seat in center of drill convenient to lever is also furnished. Drop in and let us show you what this drill can do, and furnish you with the names of a score of satisfied users. One feature of our drill that puts it in a class by itself and makes it superior to all other drills on the market is the "Peoria Disc Shoe." You won't find the disc shoe on any other press drill on earth, the Peoria people have that feature cinched and they are going to hang on to it. If you want to know why we can grow more wheat to the acre after this drill than any other with the same amount of grain sown, come in and let us explain to you the "New Peoria Disc Shoe Drill."

TEACHERS' PAY

Banks Were Closed, But State National Had Cash Ready

Saturday was pay day for Mason county school teachers, but as it was the birthday of Columbus the banks were all closed.

However, County Superintendent Jessie O. Yancey got in communication with Cashier Sharp of the State National Bank and that gentleman very kindly and quickly had $3,000 in cash taken from the bank vaults to Miss Yancey's office, where the checks were given to the teachers and the cash paid over to them on the spot.

It goes without saying that Cashier Sharp and Miss Yancey were given full credit and thanks by the teachers, who otherwise would have had to visit the city again today to get their money.

Miss Yancey was once a teacher herself and is determined that their salaries shall be paid when due.

Today McKinley Rhoads of Lexington, County High School Supervisor, and Miss Yancey will visit the Minerva High School on a tour of inspection.

FLAG MADE OF WEDDING DRESS

Mrs. Abner Hord Asks Veteran's Aid in Search

Presented Banner to Colonel Stoner in 1863

Sunday's Courier-Journal.

"I rode before them—where, a host, they left for the front—and the flag fluttered above me; but those of them who returned after the horrors of war came in scattered groups—and the flag was gone."

Mrs. Abner Hord of Maysville, a quiet little woman, told this to a group of survivors of the Ninth Kentucky Cavalry at the Confederate Home. It is a story of a lost flag and lost cause, and the flag was the standard borne by Jefferson Davis' last escort. Mrs. Hord is seeking to find the elken banner—made of her sister's wedding dress—but all her efforts have been of no avail.

The story goes back to the beginning of the war. Women of Bath county, when the famous Ninth Kentucky rode out to the war, made a gorgeous banner for Colonel Stoner's battalion. At the battle of Stone River this flag was captured and when the battalion returned in '63 it was without a flag. Silks were scarce during those days—the trial of war had brought economy, and even suffering, in many a household—but Mrs. Hord, then Miss Ellen Sanders and a very young woman, offered to make a banner. Her sister's wedding dress served as material. The flag was presented to the battalion. By the side of Colonel Stoner, Miss Sanders rode at the head of the column as it started out on its mission. Above the two fluttered the banner. In the fighting that followed, the flag was lost. All inquiries by Mrs. Hord, though sometimes they unearthed vague information, concerning the flag, were fruitless. For years she has sought the banner. Friday she again inquired of survivors of the Ninth Kentucky, but again, she went with disappointment.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
JAMES S. SHERMAN.

FOR CONGRESS,
HON. HARRY BAILEY.

If the American laborer wants goods at the market price in Germany he should be satisfied with the market price of labor in Germany.

Under the last Democratic President 40,000 pensioners were dropped. Tens of thousands of pensioners were reduced.

Every man and woman on the rolls was persecuted.

More than $200,000 spent for vicious spies.

WILSON FOOLING THE FARMER.

The farmer cannot be fooled. He knows what a very small fraction of our agricultural products sells abroad. He knows that the bulk of our agricultural products is sold at home. He knows that if American wage-earners are prosperous there are good prices for farm products; that if American wage-earners are not prosperous there are poor prices for farm products. He knows that American wage-earners can be prosperous only by our continuing to maintain American industries employing them against the competition of cheap foreign industries.

Mr. Wilson on the stump tells the farmer he could get $30 a year off the cost of his implements. Mr. Wilson naturally does not like to tell the farmer that the price of his butter is too high, the price of his poultry too high, the price of his eggs too high, the price of his grain too high, the price of his mutton too high, the price of his vegetables too high, and so on. So he goes in for the price of the farmer's implements—$30 a year. The farmer will tell Mr. Wilson at the polls that he doesn't care to save $30 a year on implements at the cost of fifty cents a bushel, say, on a thousand bushels of wheat a year.

Pointed Paragraphs.

All things worth while come to those who wait on themselves.

It takes more than an eye opener to make the toper see the error of his ways.

A woman's social rating may be based on her wash day clothesline.

It's better to have run and lost than never to have made a start.

It's hardly a fair exchange when the other fellow gets your money and you get his sympathy.

A man doesn't mind being roasted by his neighbors as much as he dislikes being kept in hot water by his wife.

The average girl never gets more than one proposal of marriage—because she is always afraid she will not get another.—Chicago News.

SOME GOLD FACTS.

A house divided against itself must fall.

A vote for the progressive ticket is a vote to divide the Republican party.

It is a vote that means the election of Wilson and Democracy, not the election of any one else.

The election of Wilson means the tampering with the income of the American business man, the wage-earner and the farmer, for it means the destruction of the protective tariff system and the placing of American manufactures, American farm products and American pay envelopes in competition with those of the whole world, irrespective of the cost of production or standard of living.

The only way that the American business man, the American farmer and the American wage-earner can protect his income is to not split the Republican party, which has maintained the protective tariff, for the only way to defeat Wilson and the Democracy is to maintain the Republican party in power.

At no time since twenty years ago, when the nation elected a Democratic president and passed the Wilson tariff bill, which closed the factories and opened the soup-houses, has the national prosperity been in so great a danger.—Commercial Tribune.

WANAMAKER'S EPIGRAM'S ON THE TARIFF.

At Philadelphia Hon. John Wanamaker in an interview with a Union Associated Press representative said:

"The tearing down of the constitution and the tariff is like allowing a horde of enemies under the spell of a reckless leader to rip off the armor plate on our naval vessels.

"Nothing under heaven can stop the havoc of desperate fighters but a continent wide rally of the Republican party.

"Taft and the top wave of prosperity, or destruction to industries," or "the whilligig administration of an unbalanced President.

"No new government ought to be permitted to check existing prosperity.

"The pleading of millions of American citizens from all over the land for work failed to stay the destroying hand of Cleveland and his free trade Congress.

"An act (the Wilson tariff) that closed American workshops, that reduced American wages and degraded American manhood to want, misery and starvation.

"Do American farmers, American working-men, American manufacturers, American merchants, desire a return to the Cleveland condition? If so, the way is open by the election of a free trade President and a free trade Congress.

"I believe the Republican party can and will rightly revise the tariff."

Political Pickings

Birmingham Age-Herald: Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt says that in New York 50,000 women support their husbands.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Dr. Hubner announces that a human huetler has only one fifty-eighth energy of a yeast cake.

Chicago Record-Herald: They have not as yet been able to produce a letter written by the Colonel with a "burn this" postscript.

New York American: Judge Parker admits that he is a Progressive, but his progress is not likely to violate the speed ordinance.

Chicago News: When there are politics to be attended in Mr. Rockefeller presumably sends a man, for he writes no letters himself.

Washington Post: The James boys having come out for Roosevelt, there seems to be no reason why the Bull Moosers from now on shouldn't be in funds.

BEST MEDICINE.

Fresh air is probably the world's best medicine, not only in the treatment of disease, but in its prevention. This is a statement buried in an announcement by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Not one person in 100, it says further, gets enough fresh air at his work, at his rest or in his sleep. The association has published a handbook on the subject of sleeping out of doors and giving directions as to how to obtain the greatest benefit in so doing. The helpfulness of fresh air has long been understood in a general way, but calling it the world's best medicine will give it a new value in the minds of many. Knowledge of it has expanded in the last few years from a point at which it was thought necessary to send sufferers from tuberculosis to California, Colorado or Arizona to a point when the atmosphere of the Adirondacks was appreciated, and since then, to the appreciation of the most available large open space having clean air. But while the curative work goes on thousands of more or less able-bodied persons make no effort to secure individual breathing space. They sleep with closed windows, ride in closed cars and work in stuffy offices, shops or stores. Some few persons in the crowd whose lungs are offended protest or escape, but the bulk of humanity tolerates polluted air while it cries for unpolluted food and drink.

There are 100,000,000 stars in the visible universe, for every star is a sun, and the nearest one is 25,000,000, 000,000 miles distant, and there are some that we can see that are 20 times further away, and some that we cannot see with the biggest telescope we can take a photograph of. Light travels 190,000 miles a second, and yet there are some stars that are so far away that the light which started when Christ was on earth hasn't got here yet, says the Toledo State Journal. If you could shoot a cannon off the nearest star, it would take over 1,000,000 years for the sound to reach the earth. Doesn't that make us look little? Yes, when we measure by material things, which we are so apt to use as standards; but when we think of the intellect making the calculation it makes us seem tall, indeed. But there is another important fact about this subject, which is that all these stars are rushing through space at the rate of 50 to 200 miles a second, and yet they don't seem to move an inch in a lifetime, they are so far away. And, more, too, they seem to have a concentric motion, as if revolving around some great center, which some have regarded as heaven, which good souls go to, for it should be remembered that spirit can go faster than light.

A medical expert speaking before the Eugenics Congress, declared he would rather have a robust burglar than a consumptive bishop for his father. He should follow up this by the logical advocacy of the abolition of the present state of society in favor of a return to the days of the cave men when the physical basis was the ideal of life. In fact, all the so-called new thoughts about life and progress are suspiciously like a return to the good old times when might was right and men did not bother with the distinctions of morals and laws.

The advice to substitute beans for meat will receive a setback through the explosion of some boiling beans in a Colorado town. The beans tore the stove to pieces and threw the owner of the house out the kitchen door. With the militant spirit abroad as it is, the adoption of beans as the principal article of diet had best be postponed.

A British merchant on a visit to this side says they do not have affairs like our bargain sales in London. In such a case the average English shopping woman's life can be hardly worth living.

Barbers of Cleveland announce that they are about to charge 30 cents for haircuts. It is to be sincerely hoped that the price is no indication of the appearance of the job.

A Michigan young man is making his way through college by raising frogs. He belongs to the energetic type who do not creak over hard luck.

Nearly 2,000,000,000 cigarettes were smoked in this country last year. Probably that includes those smoked in the moving pictures.

Somehow the doctrine of the non-existence of disease doesn't seem to stand up when hydrophobia puts in an appearance.

After having learned last year's football rules all you need to do this year is to learn some new ones.

Though it is going to cost a lot of money to move the crops, it will be worth the price.

Every change of fashion adds a line to father's brow.

A FOOL AND HIS TIPS.

Five dollars and ten cents for tips during twenty-four hours spent in New York was how a man from the west figured it up. He was inclined to think it too much. It was, it was worse. Judging by his list it was sheer plumb folly, says the New York World. One or two samples will show the silliness of his system. He "felt compelled" to give the bellboy a quarter. Ice water was rewarded with a dime more. For having a night letter put into his hand he "coughed up" another ten cents. Twenty-five cents beside the charge for pressing trousers went to the valet. He gave $1 to the waiter for serving dinner for two. He left an extra ten cents every time he paid for a telephone call. He presented a dime to the page every time the latter brought him a visitor's card, and so on. This is the brand of fool who ruins hotel servants in New York and makes the tipping evil a thousand times worse than it need be. Of the tips noted above, not one was called for save that the waiter at dinner, and there 50 cents would have been more than liberal. In every other case a word of thanks was all that was necessary. Too many men elop over with their silver and dry up when it comes to simple civility. This western tip gusher spouted as much harm and foolishness as he could in the time allowed. We wish there were fewer of him.

There is a note of desperation in the resolution of the American Pharmaceutical association calling for the passage of laws to bring about the reformation of physicians' handwriting. Men resort to law only as a last resort. They risk the ill looks of neighbor and associate only if they must. Just why the medical staff should resemble the marks that water birds make in the mud is probably one of the secrets of the profession. Possibly it comes down from Hippocrates, who wrote in Greek. You have heard of the doctor whose proposal of marriage was taken by his lady-love for a prescription and sent to the drug store to be filled, says the Toledo Blade. And of that other doctor whose will was lost and not found until his widow, falling ill, presented the missing document to the pharmacist under the impression that it was a recipe for a cough syrup. The doctor's daily toil has to do with unraveling anatomical and physiological riddles. He squares his accounts with the world by himself writing riddles down on little squares of paper. As his practice increases, so his skill at formulating prescribable puzzle grows. He knows, as Sheridan knew, that easy writing's curst hand reading.

American habits and customs, especially American clothes, are apparently becoming fashionable among Germany's young men. Young Germany no longer contents itself with the sartorial products of the Fatherland, says the London Answers. The exaggerated university suits of American cut and manufacture please them better, and most of them are never more genuinely flattered than when they are mistaken for "Amerikaner." German clothes have, in consequence, been obliged to lay in large stocks of American clothing to meet the growing demand.

England's new torpedo boat destroyers will be given names from Shakespeare and Scott. So, in the near future, we may expect to see "The Merry Wives of Windsor" engaging in battle, accompanied by "The Two Gentlemen of Verona," "The Lady of the Lake," and "The Antiquary." The war correspondent of the future probably will be chosen from among the book reviewers.

The statement that an American company mined 25,000 tons of coal in Spitzbergen last year is taken by the New York World to illustrate that "trade follows the explorers' flag also." If so, it follows it in a very respectful distance; since Spitzbergen was discovered over three centuries ago.

Now it is said American office girls are being imported by enterprising business firms in London because they are superior to the native article. Here is another American invasion to set off the British pyrotechnics of wrath.

A Chicago preacher says that women's styles today are an abomination to the Lord. This, however, will make little difference so long as they continue to be fashionable.

Medical pharps insist that hay fever attacks persons of marked intellectuality. Well, the rest of us have some compensation to be thankful for, at least.

A Los Angeles scientist makes the prediction that in 500 years all men will be bald. He has doubtless been experimenting with a hair restorer.

It is estimated that there are 3,000,000 cats in Chicago. But then only a few people in Chicago go to bed at night, anyway.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. REAL PROGRESS UNDER TAFT

Many Progressive Measures Put in Force

THE WHOLE PEOPLE SERVED

Express Companies Compelled to Reduce Rates, Parcels Post Law Enacted and Other Notable Progressive Policies Made Effective by Taft Without Boasting and Noise.

Dispassionate judges will accord to the Taft administration the credit of putting in force more measures of a positively progressive character than any other administration since the civil war. Not only have such measures been numerous, but they have been of great and far-reaching importance. President Taft has labored indefatigably to serve the whole people, and by means of his broad experience and rare judicial mind and having at his command legal talent of the highest order he has put his progressive policies one after another into valid and practical legislation. This has been done without boasting and noise. Whether vindicated or not at the coming election, Mr. Taft's work will stand as a chapter of achievement as brilliant as it is meritorious.

We wish at this time to invite attention to two specific features of governmental progress. One consists of the interstate commerce commission's investigation of the express companies, resulting in the recent report ordering the companies to reduce rates and institute sweeping reforms in various directions. The other is the enactment of the Bourne parcels post bill, one of the most useful measures ever put in force in this country under any administration. These two reforms taken in connection, will exert a powerful influence for a reduction of the cost of living.

Mr. Taft has been in complete sympathy with the interstate commerce commission's inquiry into the express business—a process consistent in all respects with the administration's general policy of compelling big corporations to square themselves with the law and the public interest. Some of the more powerful corporations do not like that policy, but the public ought to enforce it. The enactment of a parcels post law brings to fruition a plan that found endorsement in the platform upon which the president was elected. Through the action of the senate the Bourne bill, looking to a parcels service at the lowest practicable rates within a given territory, was approved for the house bill with its ratifying provisions. The measure as passed probably is not perfect, nor should the rates be regarded as permanent. The plan is experimental in certain respects. But we believe the principle of the act is correct. One of the most important aspects of this measure is its bearing on the food situation. It will give consumers and producers a new medium of direct contact. The interstate commerce commission's rulings respecting the express companies also make special account of this problem. The express companies are required to order their business in such a manner as to give quicker service and lower rates on food products.

It is recognized by all economic investigators that one of the greatest problems related to the cost of living is that which has to do with the system of distribution. Express reforms and the parcels post will be of great value in promoting prompter and cheaper distribution of food products especially, and at the same time the scope of these measures is so comprehensive as to apply to all classes of merchandise. Production, too, should be greatly stimulated by the influence thus invoked.

We do not say that President Taft deserves the sole credit for these departures, but we cite them as features of an administration that some persons would have us believe is unprogressive, when in reality they form a logical part of a great progressive epoch, which opened with the inauguration of Mr. Taft and which, in the people's patriotism and good sense, will be continued during four more years of the same courageous and able leadership.

Extract from statement of Mr. Roosevelt, dated Nov. 8, 1904:

"On the 4th day of March next I shall have served three and one-half years, and this three and one-half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the President to two terms regards the substance and not the form. Under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

"What Washington would not take, and Grant could not get, no man shall have."

No. 6---THE LOANING OF MONEY

To business men and women—and today there are few of us who are not in some way identified with business—even if it be but the business of financing a household—we offer facilities which are unsurpassed.

We are pleased to lend money to thrifty people, and to firms or corporations, as we are to receive their deposits.

Few large businesses are ever established without the aid of bank loans; and the possibilities of business success are vastly increased by good banking accommodations.

TEACHER

Has the Right to Whip a Boy Who Snowballs Him, Says Ohio Court

Can a teacher whip a boy who hits him with a snow ball?

Yes. The answer is given by the Supreme Court in the case of the State of Ohio against Riley Martin, who, according to the data, elated Morris K. Search, 13, of Zanesville, February 8th, 1912, because he had thrown a snowball which connected with some part of the exterior anatomy of the said Mr. Martin, the school-master.

The case was heard in the Court of a Zanesville Justice of the Peace following complaints of the grandmother of the boy to the Humane Society.

The Justice assessed a fine and costs of $17.19.

According to testimony brought the switch with which the lad was chastised, cut from a cherry tree, was six feet long and three quarters of an inch thick. It is said that blood trickled down one of the ankle bones of Search.

The pedagogue carried the case to the higher Court, winning in every instance, the culmination being when the Supreme Court ruled in his favor.

SOME BIG TOBACCO SALES

Chambers & Parker, tobacco buyers, have bought 200,000 pounds of the 1912 crop in Mason and Robertson counties at prices ranging from 92 to 12 cents a pound and are still looking as much of the weed as they can obtain.

The largest single crop included in the purchase was one of 15,000 pounds raised by John Leytham, which brought 103 cents. This tobacco, most of it, will come to the new Home lease leaf house in this city.

In the afternoon about 150 men were present and a splendid talk was listened to with a great deal of interest.

At the evening service the large auditorium was filled to hear the subject "Why Are You a Fool," in which many convincing truths were driven home.

At the close of this service Dr. Perryman went to the Colored Baptist Church and spoke for a short time.
